"Delhi is a great community and we had a fantastic grand opening event on Friday, June 24th. We met a lot of great people and we're looking forward to partnering with the Delhi residents and businesses for many years," MainSource Bank's market president John Grossman said.

The Delhi Branch is one of MainSource Bank's 12 full-service banking offices located in the Cincinnati area to recently go through the bank merger implementation and name change from Cheviot Savings Bank. These new locations joined the bank's already existing locations throughout Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois, now providing 91 offices for their customers. Despite their regional presence across the Midwest, the bank believes in local decision making and take pride in providing a unique mix of "small-banking" and "big-banking" services to its customers, and for being the single source for a full range of financial services offering a mix of traditional banking with insurance, brokerage, trust and title services at all locations.
